SUMMARY

Full Stack Developer with a background in design and a life-long dedication to learning. I recently earned a certificate in full stack development from Rutgers University, which helped me develop new skills in web development. This program was rigorous but helped me to learn new technologies and improved my ability to solve problems. Using my past experience in design and what I learned in recent months I'm confident I can develop user-friendly applications that are well designed and responsive.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Languages: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, GraphQL

Libraries: jQuery

Frameworks: Bootstrap, Bulma, Express.js

Databases: MySQL, MongoDB

Applications: Visual Studio Code, Git Bash, Insomnia

PROJECTS

PokeBeats

GitHub: <https://github.com/negronmarc/Poke-Beats>

Deployed Project: <https://negronmarc.github.io/portfolio/>

Summary: PokeBeats uses the PokeAPI and YoutubeAPI in tandem so users can read facts about a legendary Pokémon and listen to their respective song at the same time.

Responsibilities: I created the design for both the main and regions page. Also was the one who incorporated the PokeAPI into the website.

Tools: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Bulma, Youtube API, Pokemon API

Hypochondriacs

GitHub: <https://github.com/negronmarc/Auction-for-Pandemic-Essentials>

Deployed Project: <https://auction-pandemic-essentials.herokuapp.com/>

Summary: Auction application that allows users to place bids on popular pandemic products.

Responsibilities: Mostly in charge of the Back-End such as the routes and models but also helped with the Front-End JavaScript and the design of the application.

Tools: CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, MySQL, Sequelize, Express.js, Inquirer.js, Handlebars

Weather Dashboard

GitHub: <https://github.com/negronmarc/Weather-Dashboard>

Deployed Project: <https://negronmarc.github.io/Weather-Dashboard/>

Summary: Weather dashboard that runs in the browser and was created using the OpenWeather API to retrieve data for the cities searched.

Responsibilities: I created both the design and the script that allows the website to function.

Tools: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, OpenWeather API
